

Experience Counts: Marking 40 Years of Custom Steel Fabrication!

The year was 1976. Gerald Ford was president. The Apple Computer Company was selling processors out of Steve Jobs' garage. And a small steel plate and pipe fabrication company called Dixie-Southern was founded in rural west-central Florida.

A lot has changed in 40 years, especially here at Dixie-Southern!

Celebrating 40 Years!

Once a small phosphate dominated fabrication shop, today we are a diversified international manufacturing facility! In celebration of our 40th year in business, we had a companywide picnic with all of our employees and their families. It was important to recognize everyone who makes Dixie-Southern what it is: a team.

The picnic was in early April at Thatcher Park which is about 10 minutes from our plant. We had a great BBQ lunch catered by our local Smokin' Joe's BBQ. There were bouncy houses for the kids along with several fun crafts. We had numerous intense Corn Hole competitions by our employees and some hilarious Lawn Jenga sessions. We wrapped up the day with some awesome raffle prizes including a tablet, fishing poles, a hammock, coolers and grills.

It was great for all the different departments at Dixie-Southern to interact, and we hope to keep this as a tradition in the future!
